

Rob Schilling

Program Lead: Leadership
& Transformation

Creative, engaging, always sees possibilities.

Loves animals, cooking for friends, designing & making jewellery.

In a nutshell

With over 30 years' experience in learning and development, Rob successfully brings about innovation and transformation for our multinational clients across Europe, Asia and Australasia. A strong believer in the transformative power of creativity for individuals, groups and organisations, he enables clients to challenge their own mindsets and to spur them into achieving lasting cultural change.

Key responsibilities

Rob leads and delivers Artgym's leadership development programs for our international clients, as well as delivering our Advanced Diploma in Leading Creative Collaboration in Asia. His special talent is to listen keenly to the outcomes a client wants to achieve and then to create a feeling of total trust and psychological safety with his individual group members.

Areas of expertise

- Group facilitation
- Team coaching
- Developmental coaching
- Integral coaching
- Somatic coaching

Programs delivered

- Leadership development
- Talent development
- Leading creative collaboration

How Rob makes a difference

Rob's approach to transformational learning is to create a collaborative partnership with each of our clients. He is exceptionally good at nurturing that partnership and at strengthening the ongoing relationship to enable the group – and the organisation – to achieve success. As a result of Rob's coaching prowess, clients experience a huge positive impact on their talent retention, which makes a considerable difference to their business, both in terms of retained expertise and their bottom line.

Most proud of...

When he successfully forges a pathway towards insight and growth for the people he coaches.

Some companies she has worked with:

Adidas, STADA, Accenture Learning, Tata Communications, Unilever, Merck, Pfizer.

Qualifications/certifications

- BA in Psychology
- Certificate in Integral Coaching
- Accredited Somatic Business Coach
- Association of Facilitators, Level 3
- Master Facilitator, American Management Association
- Certificate in Health and Wellness Coaching

“I do everything I possibly can to successfully engage and integrate a team so they become a community who achieves great things through collaboration.”